The Robinsonian Series

Now comprises the most complete and comprehensive catalogue of useful reference books extant for all classes of accountants. A few of these books are enumerated below by their titles—which are, probably, as descriptive of their contents as is possible in the brief limit which is usually accorded to a title. Any further information that may be desired will be furnished on application to the author—and a copy of either book will be sent, on approval, to any responsible party requesting it—the postage or expressage to the party being prepaid.

The present book (8 per cent. interest) is intended to supply a demand which the author has often met with (especially in the South and West) for a book covering this rate, and which, while it does this in the most comprehensive and simple manner, is comparatively inexpensive. (The only other 8 per cent. book known to the author costs five times what this one does, and is not a whit better in any respect, and in many respects not so good.) It behooves all those who have to compute interest at 8 per cent. to look into this matter. The plan of the book is fully explained on some of the opening pages.

THE ROBINSONIAN 8% INTEREST BOOK,

Which is constructed on the same plan as my 6% Interest Book, is believed to be the very best 8% book in existence, for the following reasons, which apply equally to both books:

1st.—Its arrangement is original and unique, there being no extended columns to be traced up and down, and no taking out interest for months at one place and for days at another—the interest as found by it for any specified time coming at once within the scope of the eye.

2d.—It gives interest at one time for any number of days, or for any number of months and days combined.

3d.—Every page is indexed by side tags, so that we turn directly to the required page without any hunting for places.

4th.—It gives the exact interest on any amount, no matter how large.

5th.—It occupies much less space than any other practical interest book—its pages being only 4½ by 9 inches in size; yet it contains more than any other one-rate book extant.

6th.—It is arranged most conveniently for averaging accounts, by giving each table its proper date in the year.

7th.—It has special tables for SAVINGS BANKS, giving interest on every amount up to $2100 for 3 and 6 months—in full on amounts up to $210, and above that amount by simply adding a few cents interest (easily seen) on the unit figure of the principal. No turning pages.

Compared with other interest books, as to contents, readiness of reference, unlimited scope, compactness, cost, and general desirability, I have no hesitation in saying that this book, especially as an 8% book, is superior to the best of them, in all respects. Other rates than 8% are easily obtained from it by well known methods.

INTEREST ON AMOUNTS ABOVE $10,000.

Interest on amounts up to $10,000 is taken directly from the table.

For larger amounts change the terminal figure in table as follows;—

0 to 00; 1 to 11; 2 to 22; 3 to 33; 4 to 44; 5 to 50; 6 to 56; 7 to 67; 8 to 78; 9 to 89

Thus, if the interest on $5,800 be $54.48, it will be $544.78 on $58,000. This rule is general, and extends to infinity.

SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT.

Several of the pages in the last part of the book are devoted to giving interest for 3 and 6 months, at 2½, 2¾, 3, 3¼, 3½, 3¾, 4¼, 4½ and 5%.

These tables are carried up to $2100 (above the limit of Savings Banks generally.) Interest is taken out in the same manner as in the general tables (but always from the same page)—excepting that interest on amounts up to $210 is taken at once—and on larger amounts by simply adding the interest on the units figure—seen at a glance in left hand column. Thus, these tables give interest in the most practical way at all probable rates that will ever be required by any Savings Bank; and are, therefore, invaluable to such Banks on this account, as well as for GENERAL interest purposes.

EXPLANATION.

The side tags enable us to turn directly to any time, whether expressed in days, in months and days, or by dates. By opening the book above any tag we have any one of the ten days preceding the number on that tag. By lifting up the tag we have any one of the following ten days—interest for ten consecutive days being given at one opening.

Having turned to the proper place by use of the tag, interest is found in the proper section as follows. (To simplify the explanation, I here insert the table which gives interest for 69 days=2 mos. 9 days, or up to Mar. 10 from Dec. 31st of the preceding year):

69 Days.						Mar. 10					2 Mos. 9 Days.

24.53	6	39.87	55.20	6	70.53	85.87	6	101.20	116.53	6	131.87	147.20
26.07	7	41.40	56.73	7	72.07	87.40	7	102.73	118.07	7	133.40	148.73
27.60	8	42.93	58.27	8	73.60	88.93	8	104.27	119.60	8	134.93	150.27
29.13	9	44.47	59.80	9	75.13	90.47	9	105.80	121.13	9	136.47	151.80

The figures 10 00, $ 20 00, &c., in the headings, indicate all even amounts of principal from $ 1 to $ 9000; and the figures directly under them (including any figures which may be on their left) express the interest, in cents, on the amount of dollars of principal under which they stand. Thus, interest (for time shown by table,) say on $ 6, is 9 cents—shown by the 9 directly under the 6 in the heading.

Interest on $ 60, shown by the figures directly under 60, is 92 cents:

Interest on $ 600 is $ 9 20, found directly under 600; and

Interest on $ 6000 is $ 92 00, found directly under 6000.

Interest on $ 8 is 12 cents; and on $ 90 is $1.38—thus including the figures that are to the left of those which stand directly under these amounts.

For interest on compound amounts of principal, as $ 45, we take the figures that are at the same time both under the 40 in the heading and opposite the 5 in either of the down columns—in this case it is 69 cents.

On $ 450 the interest is $ 6.90, found both under 400 and opposite 5—removing the decimal point one place to the left.

On $ 8500 the interest is $ 130.33—under 8000 and opposite 5.

For interest on amounts containing three consecutive significant figures, as $ 816, we take interest on $ 810=$ 12.42, as above explained, and add to it 9 cents, which is the interest on the $ 6.

When there are four significant figures in the principal, find interest on the first two (as hundreds) and the last two, separately, and add. Interest on $ 4257 is $ 64.40 on $ 4200, and 87 cents on $ 57, making $ 65.27.

For rule for finding interest on amounts over $ 10,000, see preceding page.

If the cents of principal are less than 50, they are usually disregarded—if they are 50, or more, they are counted as $ 1. But interest may be found from these tables on cents, if desired, by taking one-hundredth of the interest on the same number of dollars.

AVERAGING ACCOUNTS.

1st.—The object of Equating Payments, or Averaging Accounts, is to ascertain at what date (called the "average date") the BALANCE of an account should be paid without any interest being due from either party. If the balan e be not paid at that date, the creditor will be entitled to interest (at any agreed rate) from that date until it is paid.

2d.—When the different items of an account are all bought for "cash," the dates of the items are the ones used in averaging—and the same is true when all the items are bought and notes given are on same time—but, in this latter case, the time must be added to the date found by averaging.

3d.—Where the items of an account are bought on varying "time," the "DUE date" is that which should be used in averaging the account. Thus, when an item is dated March 3d, and is bought on 3 months' time, the date used for that item is June 3d. If bought on 60 days, it should be May 2d.

SIMPLE AVERAGE.

When the whole Account falls in same Calendar year.

Find interest on each item of the account at the date at which item is due;
Take the sum of these items of interest;
Multiply this sum by 45, and divide the product by the dollars in the amount of the account;
Look for quotient in first calendar at end of this book, and the date opposite it will be the average date of the account.

EXAMPLE 1.

Date.	Am't	Interest.
May 17, 1887,	$150	$4.57

	$688	28.89
		45

688)127755(186,—July 5, '87, average date, as [found in first calendar.

Where Account covers parts of two Calendar years.

Find interest on the several items at their respective due dates, (turning back in the book for items in second year.) To the sum of these items of interest add the interest (taken from 365 day table) on the amount of the items occuring in second year. Multiply whole sum thus found by 45, and divide this product by the total of dollars in the account. The quotient will be found in one of the two calendars at end of the book, and opposite the average date. If found in first calendar, the average date will be in first year of account—if in second calendar, it will be in 2d year of the account.

EXAMPLE 2.

Date.	Am't	Int.
Oct. 17, 1886, - -	$290	$18.69
Nov. 26, " (due Feb. 24, '87)	340	4.16—this item sold on 90 days.
Mar. 6, 1887, - -	180	2.60
Int. on $520 due in 2d year		42.18 (taken from 365 day table.)
	$810	67.63×45=304335

304335÷810=376,—found in 2d calendar, opp. average date, Jan. 11, 1887.

If the account extends over more than two calendar years, we add to the interest on the items, the interest taken from 365 days table, on total items in second year; twice 365 days' interest on total items in third year, three times 365 days' interest on total items in 4th year, and so on—then multiply this sum by 45, and divide product by the total of the dollars in the account. Find how many times 365 is contained in this quotient, and also what is the remainder. The remainder will be found in first calendar opposite average date—but the year of average date will be as many years removed from first year of account as 365 was contained in before-mentioned quotient.

When items are all due in same calendar year.

In compound average—where there is both a Dr. and a Cr. side to the account—each side is treated separately, as in simple average, until we arrive at the sums of interest on each side. We then subtract the lesser of these sums from the greater; multiply the difference by 45; and divide the product thus found by the dollars in the balance of account, and note the quotient. If the balance of account and balance of interest are both on same side, as in example 3, and if the quotient be less than 730, the due date of the balance of account will be found in one or other of the two calendars at end of book and opposite the number expressing the quotient. If found in first calendar, the due date will be in first year of the account—if in second calendar, it will be in second year.

EXAMPLE 3.

Date.	Due	Am't	Int.	Date.	Due.	Am't	Int.
Mar. 4,	Cash	$240	3.36	Mar. 12, 3 mos.	June 12,	$400	14 49
Mar. 12, 4 mos.,	July 12,	382	16.39	April 17, Cash,		100	2.38
May 19, 30 days,	June 18,	160	6.01
		$782	25.76			$500	16.87
		500	16.87
	Balances	$282	8.89×45=40005

40005÷282=142, found in 1st calendar opp. average date, May 22, 1st year.

But, if balances of account and of interest are on opposite sides of the account, as in example 4, we subtract from 365 (if possible) the quotient obtained by dividing by the dollars in the balance of account, or from the smallest multiple of 365 that is greater than quotient—and look for remainder in first calendar. The date opposite thereto will be month and day of the due date of the balance, which will fall in the year which precedes the year in which earliest item of account occurs by as many years as we had to use multiples of 365 in making our subtraction. That is, if our quotient is less than 365, the balance will be due in the year next preceding earliest item—if greater than 365 and less than 730, the due date of balance will fall in 2d year preceding earliest item—and so on.

EXAMPLE 4.

Date.	Amt.	Int.	Date.	Amt.	Int.
Mar. 4, 1896	$240	3.36	Apr. 10, 1896,	$110	$2.44
April 3, "	120	2.48	Aug. 6, "	200	9.69
	360	5.84		310	12.13
	310				5.84
Balance of acct.	$50		Balance of interest		6.29

629×45=28305; 28305÷50=566; 2×365=730; 730—566=164.

164 is found in first calendar opposite June 13, which is the month and day of due date, which falls in 2d year preceding earliest item, as we had to take twice 365 in order to subtract quotient (566)—making June 13, 1894.

☞ Balances often average due long before date of any item.

Where items are due in parts of 2 or more calendar years.

Find interest on the items at their due dates, as before explained—also the interest (taken from 365 days table) on tne difference in the amounts in 2d, 3d, &c , years—recollecting that for difference in 3d year we take twice the interest found by 365 days table—for 4th year, three times that interest, and so on for any number of years; placing these items of yearly interest each on the side to which it belongs. Then find the sums of interest on the two sides—take their difference, and proceed as before explained.

Robinsonian Interest for Savings Banks.

Interest on even hundreds of dollars is directly under those hundreds in the head'ngs. On even tens the same, omit ing right hand figure. On hundreds and tens of dolla s combi ed, as $510, (say for 3 mos.) the interest is under 500 and on line with large 1, viz.: $3.19. On $620, it is under 600 and on line with large 2: $3.87. On tens and units of dollars combined, as $84, it is under 80 (of the 800) and on line with large 4, omitting right hand figure: $0.52. On hundreds, tens and units of dollars combined, it is the amount under the hundreds and on line with large figure expressing the tens, increased by amount in extreme left column opposite the units; thus interest on $1565 is the amount under 1500 and opposite large 6, viz.: $9.75 plus 3 cents in left hand column opposite the large 5.

Robinsonian Interest for Savings Banks.

Interest on even hundreds of dollars is directly under those hundreds in the headings. On even tens the same, omitting right hand figure. On hundreds and tens of dollars combined, as $510, (say for 3 mos.) the interest is under 500 and on line with large 1, viz.: $6.37. On $620, it is under 600 and on line with large 2: $7.75. On tens and units of dollars combined, as $84, it is under 80 (of the 800) and on line with large 4, omitting right hand figure: $1.05. On hundreds, tens and units of dollars combined, it is the amount under the hundreds and on line with large figure expressing the tens, increased by amount in extreme left column opposite the units; thus interest on $1565 is the amount under 1500 and opposite large 6, viz.: $19.50 plus 6 cents in left hand column opposite the large 5.

5 per cent. for 3 Months.

When Averaging Accounts, look for "quotient" in these calendars, and if found here, it will be opposite "average date." If found in first calendar, the date will be in the first year of the account—if in second calendar, the average date will be in second year of the account. If the quotient be greater than 730, and less than 1095, subtract 730 from it, and the month and day of average date will be found opposite the remainder in first calendar, and the average date will be in third year of the account—and so on.

To find number of days between two dates, subtract number opposite first date from that opposite second. If Feb. 29th intervene take 1 day more.

When Averaging Accounts, look for "quotient" in these calendars, and if found here, it will be opposite "average date." If found in first calendar, the date will be in the first year of the account—if in second calendar, the average date will be in second year of the account. If the quotient be greater than 730, and less than 1095, subtract 730 from it, and the month and day of average date will be found opposite the remainder in first calendar, and the average date will be in third year of the account—and so on.
